Consistent Quality. Full Stop! febi Braking Parts

Brake discs are safety components. febi therefore does not compromise on quality. With extensive material and microstructure tests, we ensure the selection of the optimum casting material - and thus high braking performance, operational reliability and long service life.

The Schwabentruck team in the FIA European Truck Race Championship also relies on brake discs from febi. Especially under racing conditions, brake discs have to deliver maximum performance. febi brake discs can withstand extreme loads and clearly prove their high power reserves.

Note

Check the condition and wear of brake discs and brake pads at least every three months, regardless of any indication displayed in the vehicle. Depending on the operating conditions, a check may be necessary at shorter intervals. Always observe the prescribed service intervals of the vehicle or axle manufacturer.
