Brake Pads for the Highest Requirements

Brake pads are standard wear items. For an optimal balance between brake performance and a long service life, febi brake pads are equipped with special friction material. The construction of various intermediate layers ensures for the secure bonding of the friction material and the backing plate. It also prevents unpleasant noises when braking.

With the high friction bedding-in compound, also known as the tiger stripes, on the febi brake pads, you have increased braking power from the very beginning and a shorter bedding-in period.

With febi 16606, 16607 and 16608 febi also offers brake pad kits for BPW disc brake systems SB 4345, SB 3745, SB 4309.
