Fig. 2: New design

As a result of continuous further development of our products, the outward appearance of tensioner pulley 531 0547 10 has changed.

In the new design, the adjustment mark, the pointer and the eccentric have been modified (Fig. 2). Technically, the two designs are identical.

The pretensioning adjustment of the belt drive system remains the same and should be carried out according to the enclosed installation instructions.

Please observe the vehicle manufacturer specifications!
